The Imperial team, of the Arcade League, jumped into second place in the Washington Herald's monster ducky tournament last night, with a total of 1,557, showing the Central out of the new activity and putting the Belmonts in third place.

The Imperial quint is practically the Mount Vernon five, leaders in the tournament at the present time, and that these five knights were able to repeat looks pretty good.

V. Gull and Geraci, both members of the Imperial team, went into third place in the doubles, with a mark of 621, putting the Kramer brothers and Mann and Koeber out of the running. Ten more pin splitters rolled in the doubles, but no marks were broken, and although four rolled in the singles, they failed to total scores that entitled them to a place in the honor roll.

Baum, with games of 128, 105, and 127, carried the Imperials over the rough times in great style, this star bowler being the Kingpin of the evening, while Geraci, with scores of 106, 105, and 96, helped a little. Frank Howard started like a house afire, getting 106 in his first game, but he fell by the wayside, and the best the Imperials could locate was second place.

Many good bowlers are hooked to roll to-night, and it is expected that the Royal Allys will be taxed to the utmost, as the crowd last night was unusually large. In the future no bowler will be scheduled the second time, and no changes in the line-up of the evening, while the tournament comes to a close Friday night, and the prize winners will be announced Sunday.

Griffith Hit with Amateurs

AMATEUR DAY FOR LOCAL BALL CLUBS

Clark Griffith to Set Aside
Date for the Sand-lottery.

By C. W. SWAN.

Amateur Day at American League Park is now a reality, as Manager Clark Griffith, of the Nationals, stated last night at the meeting of the amateur commission, held in Spaulding's store, that he would set aside one day for the use of the amateur ball teams, and would also put up three prizes for the best uniformed clubs.

Mr. Griffith also stated that he would have a brass band lead a monster parade around the city, and that he wanted all the teams in the District to take part in the match. Mr. Griffith's offer was unanimously accepted by the commission, and the coming summer will see one of the largest "amateur days" ever held in this country.

Aside from this, Mr. Griffith spoke of the benefits of amateur ball, both for the American League club and the amateur teams, giving several examples of local boys who have joined the professional ranks and have made good, using "Buck" Becker and the youngsters Scout Bob Doyle has sent to the South Atlantic League as illustrations.

Strong for Amateur Ball.

Coming to the front strong for amateur ball, Manager Griffith made a profound impression on the league officials and ball tossers alike, and when he announced that he would donate three prizes, the first of $100, the second of $100, and the third of $50 for the three clubs appearing in the nearest uniforms on "amateur day," Spaulding's store was the scene of the wildest enthusiasm, led by President Bob Young.

The amateur day plan is to have all the clubs in uniform, march through the city and then to American League Park, where the gates will be thrown open to them, and they will be the guests of Manager Griffith at the big league game. The three prizes will be for the three clubs attired in the neatest and best-looking uniforms.

Previous to the address of Manager Griffith, the first meeting of the amateur commission was held, and the report of the rules committee was heard, but was not adopted. Several changes were made in them by the commission.

When Secretary Shortell called the meeting to order, the following leagues were represented: Bankers, by Mr. Recorder; Departmental, by President Clark; Capital City, by George E. Cornell; District, by President S. Edward Beach; Independence, by President Roakes; Maryland, by Secretary Shortell; Olympia, by Mr. Lynn; and Sunday School, by W. R. Love. Eight of the eleven leagues under the commission last year were represented last night, but of this number two are sure to be out of the game this season.

Rules Are Read.

The amended rules, as compiled by Chairman Jackson, of the rules committee, were read to the commission, and considerable discussion arose over them, with the result that they were amended and the complete report of the rules committee will be read to the commission at its next meeting, which is called for next Monday night.

One of the principal amendments to the rules suggested last night was in regard to the eligibility of a player who plays in but one game as a pitcher. Under the new version of the rules, a man must pitch in no less than four innings of three separate games to become eligible to play as a pitcher, and those playing in five games can play any position. This was done to get away from the dodging of the rules, as was frequently the case last year.

Another amendment offered last night was in regard to the player signing more than one contract, and this amendment is almost sure to pass. Should this go through, a player signing more than one contract will suspend himself when the second contract is received by Secretary Shortell. Final action on this subject will be taken next Monday night.

Manager Cherry, of the American League, for the A. G. Spaulding Company, stated that he would again donate the fees for the championship team, and would likewise donate the contract money to the team.

The Saturday after the Virginia game may be given to University of Maryland, but because of the condition of the playing field the game was canceled.

GEORGETOWN MAY PLAY BROWN

Hilltoppers After Football Game with Crack Northern Eleven.

Manager Lohrbach, of the Blue and Gray football team, has written Brown University, of Providence, R. I., for a game next fall to be played in Providence.

The game, if arranged, will take place on election day, November 6. There is also October 2 open, and if suitable arrangements can be made the game could be played on that date.

Georgetown has never met this crack Northern eleven on the gridiron, and the game would serve to increase the popularity of the Blue and Gray eleven in the North.

The Saturday after the Virginia game may be given to University of Maryland, but because of the condition of the playing field the game was canceled.

GEORGETOWN LOSES ATHLETE.

Flanagan Quits College on Account of Ill Health.

Chick Flanagan, who came to Georgetown this year, has left school on account of ill health.

Flanagan while at Fordham University was the coxswain of the crew, and played baseball. It was expected that he would make a position on the baseball team this spring, and he is bound to be missed.

During his short stay at Georgetown this young man made a host of friends, and his departure is regretted.

LINK MEETS KARLUM.

Chicago Heavy-weight Wrestler
Comes Here Friday Night.

Charles Karlum, the noted Chicago heavy-weight wrestler, will meet Shad Link, the pride of Maryland, at the Lyceum Theater Friday night, in a finish bout, best two out of three falls. The bout will start after the regular performance.

Link has been meeting the best grapplers in the country, and is in perfect condition for the first time this season. This match should be one of the best offered at this theater this year.

YOUR LITTLE LAD.

No matter if he is only a tad,
Put him a ball to play on the bat;
A coxswain could get far more prize,
And this act you will never regret.

In years to come, when aged and gray,
You will remember that happy day,
And this same ball to mashed new grown,
Will live on for the kidnap then shown.

SPORTING SIDELIGHTS

By BILL BAILEY.

It's good night to the Nationals' hopes. Hugh Fullerton, the Chicago critic, says Griff has a chance to finish in the first division, and Hughey has yet to predict anything anywhere near right.

The amateurs certainly are strong for the Nationals' boss. Griff's little speech at the big meeting last night made a big hit.

The basket-ball game between Georgetown and Catholic University, arranged for next Wednesday night, has been postponed until Monday, March 11. Says Manager Fortune, of the Hilltoppers: "The chances are that this contest will never be played."

They are touting Pitcher Cheney, of the Chicago Cubs, as a second Ed Walsh. Rather a tough handicap with which to start the season, we might add.

George E. Cornell, manager for two years of the champion Cornell Tigers, says that Joe Knabe will surely make good with the Nationals. George should know whereof he speaks.

Recently a local paper published a story to the effect that good first basemen were at a premium; yes, and so are good pitchers, catchers, and outfielders.

New York fans are shouting long and loud for earlier ball games. Patrons of the St. Louis Browns are not so particular.

This dope going the rounds that Griff picks the Boston Red Sox to win the American League championship is all rot. The local boss never made such a statement in his life.

The Washington Herald monster duckpin bowling tournament comes to a close Friday night. The affair has been a big success from the start.

GRIF SEEMS AID OF POLICE CHIEF

Cannot Locate Catcher Williams and Telegraphs Magistrate for Information.

By WILLIAM PERRY.

Manager Clark Griffith, of the Nationals, is trying desperately to locate Al Williams, the big catcher obtained from New York in the recent Street-Knight swap, but up to date has been unsuccessful.

Williams makes his home in Carthage, Ill., and several letters addressed to that burg have failed to bring results. As a last resort Griffith yesterday wired the chief of police asking him if he could put him in communication with the ball player, and will probably hear from the magistrate to-day.

In talking with the writer last night Griff expressed a doubt as to whether Carthage, Ill., was large enough to boast of a police chief. "I sure do want to locate Williams," declared Griff, "as I am anxious to have him report to Charlottesville Sunday to help work out with the pitchers next week."

It has developed that Williams is among those who have yet to sign up with the Nationals. The catcher refused to come to terms with the Boston Red Sox this year, which probably explains in a measure why Washington was able to get him.

That there will be no trouble over the salary question goes without saying. Griff does not intend to have any dissatisfied players on his roster, and that trouble will be smoothed out just as soon as the Nationals' boss can locate the backstop.

The advance guard of the Nationals will not arrive in Charlottesville Sunday, but on Friday, as Manager Griffith has ordered Trainer Martin to go down from Washington on that day, and prepare the team for the trip.

It is proposed to have the part of the big allotted to the Nationals made snug and warm by the use of blankets and a temporary partition. This and other details will be arranged by the trainer before the advance squad of pitchers and catchers hit the college town Sunday afternoon.

Discovered at last. What's discovered? Why, a big league baseball manager who doesn't say his team has the pennant clinched. His name is Harry Wolverton.

"I believe that this year the New York club has not only a stronger squad but what will also prove a better balanced nine," said Wolverton recently, "than it has put in the field in some time. We have a likely bunch of youngsters in the squad and they may all be given a chance to make good. Personally, I believe that some of them will and thus greatly strengthen the team."

"I won't say that there will be nothing to it but the Yankees during the race for the pennant, but I do know we will be glad if we can capture the flag. Anyhow we will be among the leaders. Whatever happens the New York club will be fighting straight through the campaign. I am staking my reputation on the success of the team and when it is all over I will have no apologies to make and I don't think any will be necessary."

The squad will assemble in Atlanta, Ga., March 1.
